If you're considering booking a storyteller and presenter for an event, I strongly recommend Donna Washington. I am the CEO of the National Conference of State Legislatures, the nation's bipartisan association representing state legislators and legislative staff. We have been honored to have Donna present on numerous occasions, and each time, she left a lasting impression on our attendees.

Donna has the exceptional ability to connect with an audience, regardless of its size. One of our sessions had over 2500 attendees, including elected legislators eager to learn about the importance of effective communication through storytelling. Donna's sessions were not only engaging and entertaining but also profoundly insightful. She provided practical tools and techniques that our attendees could immediately apply to enhance their storytelling skills.

What sets Donna apart is her unique blend of humor and depth. She had our audience laughing one moment and reflecting the next, seamlessly weaving lessons on communication into her stories. Her presentations are not just about telling stories—they are about empowering others to tell their own stories more effectively. On top of all that, Donna is warm, friendly and simply delightful to work with.

Booking Donna Washington for your event is a surefire way to captivate your group and offer them valuable insights they can carry forward. Her presence will elevate your event and provide your attendees with an unforgettable experience.
